

Using Science

Tyler D'Arcy is a School Ager at Discovery Day Care who is using science to see what happens to crayons when heated. The heat from the blow dryer turns the crayons from a solid to a liquid.

